JAY VADO IS ONE OF THE LEADERS OF THE NEW WAVE OF R&B/SOUL/POP.

Born to a Venezuelan father and a Lebanese mother,

Jay Vado started exploring his musical aspirations early on through a dynamic mix of cultures and influences. His ethnicity has played a big role in his life and in discovering his path to stardom.

Ever since his first exposure to live music, Jay has been performing at every opportunity he can find, from local talent shows to his own concerts. His sister – now a choreographer – helped him explore his uncanny ability to impress crowds of any age. Jay started singing at the age of five and began writing songs at 13. His charm, good looks, hard work and charisma have become symbols of the artist he is today.

Jay has had a productive year, playing shows across the country with artists such as Lloyd and Trey Songz (Atlantic), with many more to come.

Recently Jay has been getting rotation on Much Music and Much Vibe for his latest video "Breathe and Shake," directed by Cazhmere D and The NE Inc. Prior to that song was his memorable feature on Harvey Stripes' hit "Material Girl," which is sure to become a classic in the years to come. Jay has been busy in the studio prepping for his first album, set to drop in the second half of 2012, and has already begun to release new singles in different languages.

His new French song "Lendemain" is steadily gaining a huge buzz around the country and abroad.

His music is a wild mix of eclectic references. Inspired by artists like Michael Jackson, Lauryn Hill, Stevie Wonder, Nirvana, Usher and Tupac, Jay describes his music as a new generation of R&B, soul, and pop, and combines the raw emotion and powerful vision of his creative predecessors.

His lyrics speak of past experiences and trials and tribulations with love and happiness. His creativity is undeniably a force to be reckoned with and will definitely be a major part of the future of music.

"My ultimate goal is to have the whole world understand where I'm coming from with my music," says Jay "Whether it is club jams, heartbreak, bedroom, or love ballads. I'm here to take it to the next level." 🌈
